We are seeking new properties for our "Private Collection"

Our agency has recently added the "Private Collection" as a category for suitably styled and optioned properties that meet the increasing demand from financially capable buyers.

These homes are target marketed to clients that meet our VIP criteria. We have been inundated with "wish lists" from such buyers, looking to purchase properties that offer features such as location, design, and inclusions, not normally found on real estate portals. These clients are seeking a lifestyle property rather than a run-of-the-mill project home. If you are considering selling a waterfront home, equine property, seaside home or a home that offers something out of the ordinary, please call us for a confidential discussion on how we can facilitate a sale for you.
